

TAG DAY FOR SUMMER CAMP.

To aid the Associated Charities in sending poor mothers and their children to Camp Good Will for a two weeks' vacation this summer, tag day will be held on the streets of Washington, July 15. On account of the numerous war charities the people have been asked to respond to, there has been much less money available this year for the older and more homely charities, and the Associated Charities is having a hard time raising sufficient funds to maintain the camp.

SECOND PRIMARY NECESSARY.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 11.—Unofficial but complete returns today show that James L. Key and Edward H. Inman must contest in a second primary for the Democratic majority nomination, neither having won a majority of the votes cast in yesterday's primary.

Promised at Playhouses

One of the most extraordinary film offerings of the year will be the attraction at the National next week, beginning Monday, when "Our Navy," depicting in perfect natural coloring all of the myriad phases of the colossal task of building, manning and operating the second largest navy in the history of the world is shown. Magnificent color effects are revealed, and from every angle the film is unique. It was authorized and has been approved by the highest officials in the United States Navy Department. There will be daily matinees, and seats are now on sale for all performances.

BELASCO.

Beginning next Monday evening, the attraction for one week at the Belasco Theater will be the latest Elliott, Comstock and Gest production, "Oh, Look!" a musical comedy with book by James Montgomery, lyrics by Joseph McCarthy, and a lively score by Harry Carroll. Three stars—the famous Dolly Sisters and Harry Fox—lead a long cast and an attractive chorus through three hours of fun-making and music.

B. F. KEITH'S.

Christie McDonald, star of "The Spring Maid" and "Sweethearts," assisted by Irene Rowan and William Haig in "Cupid's Mirror," will be the stellar attraction at B. F. Keith's Theater next week.

Herbert Williams and Hilda Wolfus will be seen in "Hark, Hark, Hark," and Jonis, Princess Lei Lokelani, the "Pearl of Hawaii," will appear with her native singers and dancers. The usual number of contributory acts complete an exceptional bill.

POLY.

Poly's Theater announces as its attraction for one week, beginning with matinee next Sunday, the first official Italian war picture, presented under the title of "The Italian Battlefield." This film is said to depict realistically the heavy fighting, the capture of large numbers of Austrian prisoners, the struggle at the Piave and many other features of the recent triumphs of the Italians on the Austrian front.

GARDEN.

For the last three days of the current week Moore's Garden Theater announces Pathé's lively film drama, "For Sale," in which the interesting star roles are portrayed by Gladys Hulette and Craghton Hale. Next week will bring three unusual photo-plays to the Garden screen. Sunday and through Tuesday Earle Williams will be the pictured star in "The Girl in His House." For the ensuing two days the chief attraction will be "The Frozen Warning," in which Charlotte, the champion woman skater of the world, is featured. The last two days will be featured by "Find the Women."

an," a new film drama in which the central role is taken by Alice Joyce.

STRAND.

The chief attraction at Moore's Strand Theater for the rest of the week will be Metro's splendid picture-ization of Joseph Arthur's famous melodrama classic, "Blue Jeans," with charming Viola Dana filmed in the stellar role of June. All of the exciting episodes have been retained, including the saw mill scene. Next week will bring "Revelation," starring Alla Nazimova. In this picture the distinguished Russian actress is given opportunity to run the gamut of emotions. It is expected to take rank as one of the big pictures of the year. It has been booked for the entire week.

GLEN ECHO PARK.

Led by Antonio Celio, the popular bandmaster, Glen Echo's own band will give a series of free concerts for the Sunday visitors. This will be an added feature to all of the usual diversions are also on the program. The whip, derby, carrousel, gravity, and midway, with its many attractions, will be running, flanked by dozens of minor fun providers of the park. On week nights dancing is added to the list. A ten-piece orchestra provides the music. There is no charge for admission to the resort and outing parties are always welcome.

COSMOS.

"Oh, Charmed," George Choo's latest effort in girl comedy and music, will be the headline attraction at the Cosmos Theater next week. The book is by Dori MacBoyle and the music by Walter L. Rosemont. The company is headed by Jack Claire, Blanche Boone, Victor Kahn and Ida Mitchell. An extraordinary attraction will be "The Children of Confucius," Dong Gong Foe and Harry Hsu, in an interlude of Oriental entertainment quite new to Washington. Joe Darcy, of the American Comedy Four, in "A Monologue in Cork," Williams and Bernis, Melrose and Carter, Ross and Thorne, and William Farnum in the film "Rough and Ready" at the matinee and a new Mack Bennett farce, "Hear Screen Idol," with the Hearst-Pathé News, will complete the bill.

CASINO.

The Casino Theater announces as its attraction for next week, beginning with a matinee at 3 o'clock next Sunday afternoon, "The Burlesque Show of Wonders," by which it is said, all records set during the first three weeks of the Casino's summer season may be expected to be broken. An innovation that has proved popular at this new burlesque house is the presentation of different teams of comedians in the opening and closing burlettas.

CHESAPEAKE BEACH.

The special vaudeville attraction at Chesapeake Beach for the two weeks' period, commencing next Monday will be Wormwood's apes and monkeys, with an amusing program of clever tricks. Free performances will be given daily at 3 and 5 o'clock.

Free dancing on an open pavilion over the water to the strains of music from a large orchestra will continue to be one of the principal diversions along the mile boardwalk, lining which are also to be found the $25,000 Derby coaster, the merry-go-round, the "Bug House," and other attractions.

LIBERTY DANCE GARDENS.

With dancing, motion pictures, and a dozen up-to-date amusements on the daily bill, the Liberty Dance Gardens offers a wide variety of entertainment for those seeking outdoor diversion. As an added attraction for the Sunday visitors, there will be a promenade concert in the evening. A high class operatic program and motion picture show will be the predominating features.

MARSHALL HALL.

That the evening trips of the steamer Charles Macalester with the choice of the short ride to Marshall Hall, where a wide variety of diversions are available, or the forty-mile trip down the Potomac, are proving popular, is proven by the large crowds which board the boat each evening. After discharging its passengers at the Hall, the steamer proceeds down the river to Indian Head, turning there on its homeward trip. Dancing on the boat and in the riverside pavilion is a feature.

GREAT FALLS PARK.

At Great Falls Park today and throughout the week there will be free dancing, free motion pictures and free concerts by the Ladies' Liberty Orchestra, both afternoon and evening. A large number of entertaining devices for the children's amusement also are provided, as well as facilities for picnic parties.

NATIONAL.

To make way for other important bookings at the National, "Hearts of the World" will be withdrawn after Saturday night's performance. There is a good selection of seats for the remaining presentations, which will be given twice daily at 2:10 and 8:10 p. m. In attracting capacity audiences for four weeks, "Hearts of the World" has merely duplicated in the Capital its record-breaking seats elsewhere. New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, and other cities surrendered to its thrills and heart throbs with the same enthusiasm.

WOULD SALVAGE "WASTE."

A meeting of the War Work Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and representative citizens interested in salvaging so-called "waste" material for the benefit of the Red Cross will be held at 8 o'clock this evening at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, 611 Twelfth street northwest. Mrs. John Allen Dougherty, wife of Captain Dougherty, U. S. N., will present a simple plan of attaining results which she has worked out in other cities. She has been made chairman of the work for Washington.

Swift & Company's sales of fresh beef in Washington, D. C., for the week ending Saturday, July 6, 1918, averaged 21.46 cents per pound.—Advt.

POLICEMAN BLEEDS TO DEATH AFTER FALL FROM ROOF

Bleeding to death from a wound in the neck caused by falling through a glass skylight, Lester M. Kidwell, thirty-one years old, a policeman of the Third precinct, and formerly chauffeur for Commissioner Brownlow, staggered to a patrol box, sent in a hurry call for help, and then collapsed. He was removed to Casualty Hospital, where he died from loss of blood a short time later.

Kidwell returned to his home at 1155 Neal street northeast about 1 o'clock this morning from work and heard a dog barking. He went into the rear yard to investigate, recalling that thieves have been active in the neighborhood recently. He climbed to the roof of the shed in rear of his home and walked over the roof to the shed in rear of the home of James Shea at 1161 Neal street.

Suddenly Kidwell slipped and fell, falling through a skylight in the Casualty Hospital, where he died from loss of blood a short time later.

Montello avenue and Otis place northeast. "Send the wagon quick; I'm badly hurt," said Kidwell over the phone to Lieutenant Hodges at the Ninth precinct station. When an ambulance arrived Kidwell was nearly unconscious, but he told what had happened before he finally lost consciousness.

The thief whom Kidwell was seeking was seen running through an alley in rear of Kidwell's home by Mrs. Mary E. Dolhy, of 1168 Neal street just before Kidwell fell through the skylight. Coroner Sevlans issued a certificate of death by accident after an investigation of the accident. The coroner found that Kidwell's jugular vein had been severed by the broken skylight glass.

RARE ROYAL CAXTON BOOK BRINGS $9,000

NEW YORK, July 11.—According to cable advices received in this city yesterday, the rare Royal Caxton book in the famous Henry Huth collection, which has just been dispersed at Sotheby's Galleries, London, has been acquired by George D. Smith, of New York, for the record price of $9,000.

This copy is in the finest condition with the original blank leaf at the beginning. It has no printer's name or date but was printed by W. Caxton, who first introduced printing into England about 1487. It has woodcuts and Gothic woodcut initials, and is covered with blind antique ornaments.

WOODMEN PLAN OUTING.

The annual excursion and outing of the Washington lodges of the Woodmen of the World will be held on July 24 at Chesapeake Beach. A prize waits and a program of athletic events will be among the special features.

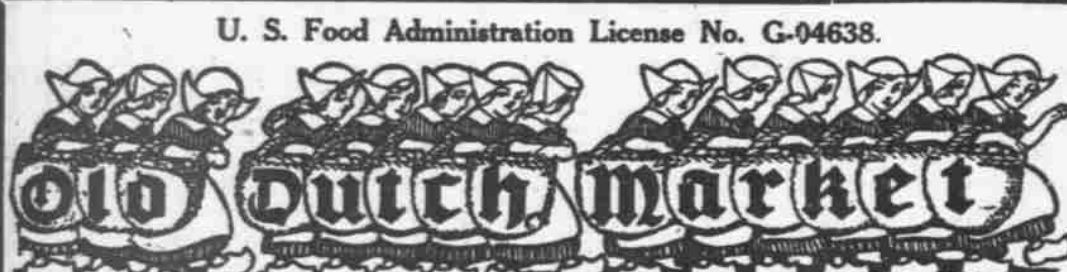

Holders of Red Cross

Surgical Dressings Instructor's Certificate

Needed

On account of the increased consignments from various Chapters of the Potomac Division, it is necessary to obtain the services of additional inspectors for the Surgical Dressings.

Thinking that there are a number of holders of these certificates in Washington, who may be temporarily not engaged in this work, it is desired that such persons communicate with, or call on, Mrs. E. P. Lamberton, Superintendent of Surgical Dressings, Potomac Division, American Red Cross, 939 Sixteenth street N. W., at their earliest convenience.
